PREFACE.

A large amount of time, labor and expense, extending over a period of nearly twenty years, has been devoted to the collection of the material for this work, including months of labor spent in the Genealogical Libraries of Boston and New York. A large amount of this material has never before been put in print, having been collected from the town records where early settlers resided. It is published that it may be put into a more permanent and available form for the use of those who may be interested in these families.

PATERNAL LINES.

BIXBY LINE—NO. 1.

COLONIAL AND REVOLUTIONARY.

THE BIXBY FAMILY is of Danish origin; the Danes having settled in Boxford and Ipswich, Suffolk county, England, in 1013. A colony came to Ipswich, Mass., in 1636, and among them Nathaniel Bixby. The name Bixby is derived from two words, box (the box tree) and by (the house or town by the box trees). The first record of any Bixby in this Country is of Nathaniel whose name appears in the records of Ipswich, Mass., as a householder in 1637. Nothing more is known of him. The name of widow Mary Bixby appears in the records in connection with that of her son Joseph, so there can be little doubt but that Joseph was the son and Mary the widow of Nathaniel who probably died soon after he came to this country.

SON.—Joseph Bixby, b. about 1625, in England, d. 1700 in Boxford, Mass., m. 1647 Sarah (Wyatt) Heard, a widow, of Ipswich, who came from Arlington, Suffolk county, England.

NOTE.—Joseph Bixby was one of the incorporators of the town of Boxford, Mass. His name appears second on the list, and it was through his influence that the town was named Boxford, his native place in England. He was selectman 1689, was chosen to run line between Topsfield and Boxford, Dec. 12, 1689, was chairman of committee to set the bounds between Rowley and Boxford, was selectman 1693, moderator and selectman 1694 (Town Record, Vol. I, pages 5, 9, 16 and 33).

SON.—Daniel Bixby, b. 1651, in Ipswich, Mass., d. 1717, in Andover, Mass., m. Dec. 2, 1671, Hannah Chandler, b. 1651, in Roxbury, Mass., d. 1741 in Andover, Mass., dau. of Capt. Thomas and Hannah (Brewer) Chandler of Andover, Mass.

SON.—David Bixby, b. Feb. 15th, 1688, in Andover, Mass., d. —— in Westford, Mass., m. June 4th, 1712, Abigail Butterfield b. June 4th, 1693, in Westford, Mass., dau. of Joseph and Lydia (Ballard) Butterfield of Westford.

SON.—Asa Bixby, b. Feb. 24th, 1735, in Westford, d. 1809, in Westford, Mass., m. April 17th, 1756, Susanna Howard, b. —— d. —— in Westford.

NOTE.—Asa Bixby was a private in Capt. Joshua Parker's company, Col. Robinson's regiment. Enlisted Aug. 1, 1777 (Mass. Soldiers in Revolutionary War, Vol. II, p. 87).

SON.—Joseph Bixby, b. May 19th, 1766, in Westford, d. April 26th, 1839, in Mount Holly, Vt., m., 1789, Molly Boyden, b. April 12th, 1772, in Groton, Mass., d. Oct. 2d, 1846, in Mount Holly, Vt., dau. of Jonathan and Elizabeth (Sawtell) Boyden of Groton, Mass.

SON.—Armentus William Bixby, b. June 17th, 1804, in Mount Holly, Vt., d. Sept. 12th, 1841, in Shellersville, Ohio, m., 1827, Hannah Maria Stoddard, b. Nov. 27th, 1804, in Claremont, N. H., d.
